me: hey, your gchat thing actually shows you to be online now me: what's up with that?
Catalina: hey
Catalina: i dont know Catalina: it says im invisible on my computer me: now you are me: a few minutes ago you had yourself a green dot Catalina: odd Catalina: im a ghost me: which I thought so remarkable that I remarked upon it me: I love your ghost-esque qualities Catalina: thanks me: I've got so many ongoing debates that I don't even know where to begin me: although a couple of these people are being giant pussies and refusing to debate me even though they've been more than willing to publicly talk nonsense about me, so that cuts down on my to-do list at least me: I'm about to start calling some of them out publicly, every day, until they give in me: I'll call it the Faggoty-Ass Pussy Fascist Bitch Daily Update me: or something else me: seriously, they pop up, write some article about me or just mention me in passing, then I propose that we actually discuss the matter via gmail and then publish the results me: then they disappear or ignore my suggestion entirely
